

What is the point? It happens anyway. So they pay the price for their actions. With freedom comes responsibility. We seem to be trying to encourage irresponsible behavior and remove any and all accountability.

Leave everything as it is. They are free to say and pay for what they say.